AHEAD OF CYBER THREATS

Nucleon CyclonShield MDR
Managed Detection and Response

STRENGTHEN YOUR RESILIENCE AGAINST CYBER THREATS

Organizations are facing a surge in sophisticated cyberattacks, putting their systems and data at risk. In response to these threats, security teams must overcome multiple challenges : limited visibility, uncorrelated alerts, operational fatigue, and difficulty in quickly containing incidents. Nucleon CyclonShield MDR is a managed detection and response service designed to neutralize attacks before they impact your operations. It combines continuous monitoring, advanced behavioral analysis, and end-to-end handling of cybersecurity incidents. Our experts ensure immediate 24/7 response, delivering effective protection with no added burden on your internal teams.

Why choose Nucleon CyclonShield

Technical Expertise & Integrated R&D – The service is operated by Nucleon Security's in-house teams, ensuring full control over the technology and optimal responsiveness to emerging threats.

Autonomous and Transparent Management – Our analysts handle the entire response cycle: detection, containment, eradication, and recovery. You receive a detailed report at the end of the intervention, with no action required on your part.

Advanced Threat Detection – Proactive analysis of attacker behavior to neutralize threats before they cause damage.

Reduced Operational Load – Fewer false positives, more targeted actions. Our teams filter, analyze, and intervene, freeing you from alert fatigue.

Commitment & SLA Compliance – Guaranteed responsiveness and rigorous incident management in line with defined service levels.
